WHAT IS FOREX?

Forex trading, or foreign exchange trading, is the act of buying and selling currencies in the global marketplace. The goal is to profit from the fluctuations in exchange rates between different currencies. The forex market is the largest and most liquid financial market in the world, with a daily trading volume exceeding $6 trillion.

In forex trading, participants trade currency pairs, such as the Euro/US Dollar (EUR/USD) or the British Pound/US Dollar (GBP/USD). One currency is bought while the other is sold simultaneously. Traders aim to buy a currency when they believe its value will increase relative to another currency and sell when they anticipate a decrease in value.

Forex trading is decentralized, meaning it occurs over-the-counter (OTC), not on a centralized exchange, and operates 24 hours a day, five days a week. It attracts a variety of participants, including individual traders, financial institutions, and governments, due to its high liquidity and potential for profit. However, it also involves significant risks.
